Smed proud of his confusions--which pointed to fresh conclusions.

They, in turn, gathered praise.

Sometimes, rich, full, laughter!

As if...who could have anticipated
such a delightful outcome?

Well, this is the creative life, a privilege of few.

Until...it falters. And some ask why go to such complexity?

And others then find themselves in company
so dull they fall asleep.

Can they ever again be witty and funny?

Soon, actually not recalled that way.

Period.